A MIRACLE DOCTOR'S RECOMMENDATION -A dispatch from Vienna says: "In Gallcia a few days ago, a trial occurred that revenied the ignorance and gross superstition among the presentry. At B z-rzow the discovery was made that several Jewish graves had been opened and the bodies of two children removed. Near the village, where typhus fever had prevailed, a miracle doc tor had prescribed as a cure for the contagion burning the bones of a Jew. The house occupied by a patient was searched, and human flash, the bones and skull of a child were found. The house many hards him. were found. The bones were burned, but this did not eave the patient, who died shortly afterward. The widow related the case to the miracle doctor. He told her thore were two kinds of typhus, one Catholic typhus cured by prayer, the o her Jewish typhus cured by prayer, the other Jewish typhus cured only by the means described. He brought bones, and precured water from a well from which no man ever drank. He burned the bones in a charcoal fire, nearly smothering the family with the fumes. Then, while the room was full of smoke, be mumbled strange words. He hunted around a table, pretending he was trying to catch the typhus, which be then put into a bottle of water, of which he made all those present drlak. The doctor was arrested and sen-tenced to five month's imprisonment.
